Hallie Story Of The Month

This section of the newsletter is dedicated to sharing a story each month about who Hallie was and the remarkable impact she had on those around her. We hope this inspires you to live life 'The Hallie Way!'

As many of you know, Hallie was studying to become a doctor, a journey that demanded immense dedication. During her preparation for the MCAT, Hallie formed a unique bond with her tutor. Their relationship quickly evolved into a meaningful friendship.

Hallie's tutor shared that one of his most cherished dreams was to write a book. Hallie unwaveringly supported his aspirations, believing in his potential even when he doubted himself. Hallie's faith in her tutor provided the spark he needed to seriously consider turning his dream into reality.

After her passing, the tutor made an effort to contact the Grossmans to share how Hallie's encouragement inspired him to finally pursue his dream. He shared his plans to dedicate his book to Hallie as a tribute to her legacy.

This story is a powerful testament to how positivity can touch those around you. Hallie's ability to inspire and uplift others was one of her many remarkable qualities. Nothing would make Hallie prouder than for The Hallie225 Community to spread kindness, support, and a steadfast belief in the potential of others!

Hellos From Hallie

This month's submission comes from Lexie Cosmos, a dear friend of Hallie's. Lexie is vacationing in Europe with her mom, and while wandering the streets of Venice, she happened to look up and see "HBG" written on a wall. For those who don't know, those are Hallie's initials: Hallie Beth Grossman. This is such a sweet reminder that Hallie is always with us!
